

Mind Power

An entertaining interactive keynote or breakout presentation

Overview

Someone once quipped that, “The mind is a terrible thing to waste!” What if we could extend our mental abilities by just one percent, where would that take us?

Does your staff have trouble remembering things? Lots of things? During the Mind Power presentation your guests will discover, learn and practice powerful techniques that will help improve their mental prowess.

Using simple arithmetic, participants will learn to perform a mathematical wonder.

By the end of the presentation, they will be able to apply three different memory techniques and remember things — a lot of things!

Your audience will explore these skills in an entertaining, interactive setting. The presentation combines both entertaining demonstrations and detailed explanations of a variety of the techniques showcased.

Each participant will receive a copy of Ron’s companion book, “Mind Power.” This book will act as a refresher of the techniques they will have learned in the session.

Running Time

Adjustable — 60, 90 or 120 minutes
